if Wiggins'storm doesn't come, the country will be peculiarly blest.

It is easier for a millionaire to enter the United States senate than it is for a camel to go through the eye of a needle.

Congress couldn't adjourn without passing a river and harbor bill. It could afford to kick the tariff reform bill about like a foot-ball, but a river and harbor bill that took eight millions from the treasury, was crowned with honor.

In the assembly the other day, the bill exempting the property of gymnastic associations from taxation, was killed, but on Friday Colonel Britton moved that the vote by which it was killed be reconsidered, which was carried. The bill was referred to the committee on education, and may possibly pass.

A prominent exchange says: "Ex-Sona. tor and Congressman-elect Luke P. Holland, of Vermont, is visiting Washington in the famous old blue swallow-tail coat with brass buttons." If the name had been made to read Judge Poland, the item would have been more pointed as well as more accurate.

Judge Park has decided not to contest the congressional seat of Isaac Stephenson, in the ninth district of this state. He claims he is out of health, and does not want to go into the contest. The reason he decides not to contest is probably that he finds no ground on which he can possibly claim a seat.

It seems that the conference committee on the tariff bill has come to an agreement. Evidently, the proposed bill is not satisfactory all round, but the best that could be done when congress is on its last legs. It will reduce the income from tariff duties about $70,000,000.

Wiggins' great hurricane will begin its march on an unlucky day—next Friday and will continue over Sunday. He persists in saying that it will be as great a storm as ever occurred on earth. It is more than probable that this so-called greatest storm on earth, will occur only in the imagination of a false prophet.

Secretary of. War Lincoln has taken a step which will make him very uppopular in Washington. He has sent to the senate the names of 82 officers of the army who are simply doing "society" duty in that city, and yet drawing pay; and Secretary Chandler places the number of fancy naval officers stationed at the capital, at 201. There will be sorrowing among the society young ladies in Washington if these officers were ordered where they belong.

There is no man in the United States senate who enjoys so much of the confidence and deep respect of his fellow senators as Mr. Edmunds, who will take Judge Davis' place as president protem, of the senate. He has brains, charactor, and pluck, and has the respect of the democrats and the confidence of the country. He is a stanch republican, but his ability and integrity are so prominent in all things that he says and does, that even his political opponent cannot help but admire him. He is a great man, and while his abilities are brilliant and his scholarship of the ripost order, he is in the highest sense a just man.

There is a joint resolution before the legislature which provides for an amendment to the constitution so as to exempt Milwaukee county from the constitutional provisions, requiring uniformity in county government. The friends of the measure claim that the city of Milwaukee has outgrown the county government system. Colonel Britton, in discussing the question said that every day came up evidences of the exclusive policy of the city of Milwaukee, which seems desirous of setting itself up independent of the rest of the state. He thought this capped the climax. The resolution was not acted upon, and further consideration postponed until next week.

A report from Washington says that Milton Turner, ex-minister to Liberia, is the terms of the treaty of 1896 between some scheme against capital by which the United States and the Choctaws and | wages may be raised or hours of labor re-Chickesaws. There are said to be 30,000 duced, but he becomes a member that he

ANOTHER MILLIONAIRE TO THE FRONT.

The man who succeeds Thomas . W. Ferry, of Michigan, in the United States senate, is Thomas W. Palmer, of Detroit. He is an extensive lumberman, and vessel owner, a salt manufacturer, au owner of large farms, and with these interests is a man of vast wealth. It is said that he is a native of Michigan, a graduate of the state university, is 53 years old, has considerable ability, and is a very effective speaker. He has always been a repubhean, and has served one term in the state senate. The Milwaukee Sentinel says that Mr. Palmer was formerly a resident of this state. He engaged in business as a merchant in Appleton, in 1859, was subsequently burned out and financially ruined. He was born at Detroit in 1830, studied for a year in the Michigan university, but was compelled to withdraw on account of disease of his eyes. In 1848 he travelled in Spain. He has latterly been engaged in the lumber business and is wealthy. His political experience has been inconsiderable.

As a compromise this is the best outcome of the contest that could be expected. It is to be regretted, and the warm friends of Senator-elect Palmer will join in that regret, that Mr. Ferry could not be returned. While Hubbellism has defeated him, it has pot succeeded in putting an unworthy man in his place. The contest is over, the result very satisfactory, and the republigans of Michigan have an occasion for hearty rejoicing.

NO EXECUTIVE MANSION. Several attempts have been made in this state to purchase an executive mansion, but the prejudice against the measure has always brought it to defeat. At this session of the legislature a bill was introduced appropriating $25,000 for the purchase of a suitable house which be set apart for the use of the governors. When the bill came up on Friday an amendment was proposed to make the sum $17,000, and the matter put over till next Wednesday, but the assembly refused to postpone the action.

The supporters of the bill claimed that t was an undignified position in which to place the governor of the state to oblige him on the small salary of $5,000 live in a boarding house or a botel, or buy or rant a residence. They claimed that over half the states in the union had residences for their governors. They held that as the president of the university, all shoriffs, and superintendents and officers of all our state institutions were provided with residences and it was but appropriate to extend the same courtesy to the governor of the state, and there is a good deal of sound sense in the argument.

Those who opposed the bill struck Madison a gentle blow when they claimed that good houses were always for rent in that city, and to expend $17,000 or $25,-000 for a house, would be an ill-timed piece of legislation. When the question had been exhausted, it was put to a vote and the bill was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 63 to 23.

COMMON SENSE AMONG THE WORKING-MEN.

The recent visit of Herr Most to this country demonstrated one thing and that s that his inflammatory, revolutionary, and socialistic speeches did not have the effect which that hot-headed agitator predicted. His object was to inflame the minds of the workingmen, to cause an unrest among them, and to induce them. to rise up against capital and to take the law into their own hands. In most places his audience was small and in no one place did he succeed in driving the laboring people into his way of thinking.

The strikes and riots that have occurred in this country during the past few years have not proved beneficial to the workingmen. Taking into account the time lost by the strikes, and the destruction of property by the riots, the strikers and the rioters got the worst of the \mathbf{end} bargain. In a nimujority of cases, when strikes have been made, the men have been idle for months, their families suffering for food, and at last, have been compelled to accept a compromise which could have been made without striking. This condition of things has been repeated so often, that workingmen are beginning to see the folly of striking a blow at their own interests. They begin to learn what they should have learned long ago by a little study and observation, that the success of capital invested in manufacturing, means fair wages and continued employment of the working people. Profiting by the expensive lessons of the past, the workingmen in many cities are organizing what they have chose to call, the knights of labor. It is not in any sense a political organization, but one calculated to strengthen the bonds of fellowship and to enable them to discuss questions in which they are directly inin that city at the head of a delegation of terested. The organization is not concolored men from the Indian territory, fined to any particular trace, which is a who were former slaves of the Indians. strong point in its favor. Any working. With such organizations as these, there will be no considerable number of followers of Herr Most, and no repetition of the riots in Pittsburg in 1878. Illinois.

DUNN'S GUN.

Further Particulars of the Dunn-Elliott Affair.

A Post-Mortem Shows that Elliott Was Shot Four Times.

CHICAGO, March S. The tragedy that occurred in the Tivoli on Dearborn street on Thursday evening was the cause of more gossip among sporting and other classes yesterday than anything of the sort that has taken place for a long time. Jere Dunn has for many years occupied a position among theatrical and sporting people that is rarely enjoyed by men of his people that is rarely enjoyed by men of his kind, as was evidenced by telegrams of sympathy received from Joe Wheelock, W. H. Smith, and James O'Neill, who are now acting in eastern cities. All of vestorday Dunn's cell was crowded with acquaintancos and friends, all of whom offered him every assistance in their power, and he was the constant recipient of favors from people of the botter class, until the doctor in charge refused all callors admittance to his cell. Dunn was somewhat botter yesterday, but he was still suffering from the wounds on his head and Jeft arm. He insisted that he bore Elliott no camity, but that he was in constant four for his life, for the reason that he heard that Elliott was in sourch of him with a revolver.

A. S. Trude has been engaged to defend Dann. From a statement obtained from a reliable source vesterday afternoon there would seem to be little doubt that Jerry Dunn simply saved his life by a secarch when he disabled Elliott by shets in the abdomen and groin. The man who made the statement is entirely responsible, and he will probably be called upon to rehearse it before the coroner's jury to day. It is to this effect Soveral week ago Elliott and a combination of athletes left for the west under the management of "Parson" Davies. They proved quite successful in their exhibitions, and made money in all the towns as far west as Itolic City, Kan. In the meatime Mr. Davies had arranged dates shead, among which was a week at a thentre in Leadville. At Dodge City, however, Elliott started upon a spree, which lasted several days, During the "drunk"—he spoke very often of his haved of Dunp, and inally said he was going to reture and ran him out of town, using a vite epithet. It was hoped that he would be quieted and induced to continuo the trip but, saidlenly one ovening he left the town for Chicago. Mr. Davies, learning that he had boon desorted by Elliott, left on the roxt team for this city, arriving here soon after Elliott. In conversation with a gouldenan, Afr. Davies stated the cfrounstances related, and it insponed that the gentleman was a triond of Dunn's. Very naturally, he informed Dunn of the fact that Elliott was looking for him, and wareed him to keep out of the way and avoid a moeting. Dunn said he would de all in his power to prevent out of the way and avoid a meeting. Dunn said he would do all in his power to prevent fromble, but he would not keep away from his duily haunts or walks for Elliott'or any other man.

Dr. Bluthardt, the county physician, held a post mortion upon the remains of the dead prize-fighter yesterday morning, and discovered four bullet holes in the body. There was one in the pill of the stomach, about an inch below the navel, and another in the left groin. The other two wounds were in the right arm, near the abow. At the completion of the post mortem "Parson" Davies, the dead man's friend, gave orders for the embalming of the body, which, as som as it is disposed of by the coroner's jury, will be forwarded to New York, where Elliet's mother and sister reside.

The inquest upon the body will be held at the Harrison street station this morning at 10 o'clook.

the Harmon street state of the Harmon street of clock.

It had been stated that M. E. Thomas, the Clark street gun-dealer, had sold Jore Dunn a pistol or the day of the traggedy. A reporter called upon Mr. Thomas yesterday in regard to the matter. He said: "I never sold Jore Dunn the matter."

pistol on the day of the tragedy. A reporter called upon Mr. Thomas yesterday in regard to the matter. He said: "I never sold Jore Dunn a pistol in my life, but he has always brought his triends to deat here. He came in yesterday with a double-acting six-chambered Smith & Wesson revolver and asked me if it was all right. I told him no; that it would only discharge one chamber and not fire on the next. I shot one barrel off and showed him, and he went up stairs and had the weapon cleaned. The old cartridges were replaced with new case, and that was all there was about the purchase of a weepon here."

It was a subsequently learned that it to time moutioned Jers Bunn had two revolvers with him instead of one, and of these one was an entire new weapon, and this is probably the one with which the shooting was done.

The news of Elliot's death was communicated to his aged mother at New York yesterday by Miss Catherine Curley, the eldest grandchild of the bereaved mother. Mrs. Elliott resides with a widowed daughter, Mrs. Kane, at 24 Christic street, and the members of the household had not read the morning papers, and were entirely ignorant of the sudden death of their son and brother until apprised of it by their visitor. The slater and brother of the dead pugilist weep bitterly, and Mrs. Elliott beat her hands together and exclaimed: "What will I do now? My boy is taken from me! Oh, who could have had the heart to kill my Jim, the only help of his peor, widowel mother!"

Mrs. kane was equally profuso in her lamentations, and said "Jumes was put away because a man was afraid of him: My bitter enseen the man that took his life."

There were some discussion among the relatives as to the funcal. Mrs. Elliott ended the contab by saying: "He was my boy; he lived with me, and he must be buried from where I live." It is probable that John Styles, who was Elliott's special friend, will arrange the details of the funeral.

The bill to provide for the purchase of two thousand copies of Strong's "History of the Territory of Wisconsin" at 33 per copy was concurred in. The senate bill to fix the minimum price of the unsold public lands came up, and, the question being on the adoption of the amendment making the price $5 per acre, the said amendment was rejected. Discussion followed the introduction of this bill. In the assembly, the flood of potitions for prohibitory amendments continued. A large number of bills were concerned in.

A MOB.

Riotous Demonstrations of a Gang of Intoxicated Strikers at Marsellies, Marseilles, Ill., March 3 .- A riot of ensiderable proportions and which has created considerable excitement in this community took place here Thursday evening. A statement of he troubles is about as follows: It organized among the mon employed by John Clark, who operates the paper mill recently leased from the receiver of the old Mar-seilles paper company. At 10 o'clock Monday night the men struck and shut down the mills The reason they did so was because a Mr. Hogan, a creditor of the mill, removed some paper after Mr. Clark's assignment. The object was to secure the stock and save their wages due. From the time of the shut down the men formed in ranks and marched down the mon formed in ranks and marched down to the depot to meet the train from the east, apparently with the intention of meeting Mr. Clark. On Wednesday Mr. Clark arrived on the Minneapdis train, which is not in the habit of stopping at this elation. He immediately paid the men and discharged some of them. This aroused the wrath of the crowd, and the arrival of a jug of whisiy from Ottawa helped to excite their ire and make them brave. The failure of several manufacturing companies here had made them very fearful concerning their wages. After the Ottawa liquot had been disposed of the men went to Seneca and got some Soneca whisky. They came back on the did train Thursday evening inloxicated. About 9 or 10 o'clock a crowd of nine or ten strikers went to the Geneva hotel. Their object was to secure a man by the name of Ross, who had sided with the proprietors of the mill, much to the disantisfaction of the men. After threatening the landlady with a washbowl, *Policoman Confinentarived and tried to qualt the row. He knocked the leader of the gang, Abs Lyon, down, an earlied for assistance. Lyon first bruck at the policeman. He attempted to take Lyon to jail, whon Edward and William Croaker romonstrated. One caught the policoman by the shirt-coltar. The policoman then grabbed a club from one of the crowd and knocked Croaker down. The other Croaker met the same fato. This aroused, the rioters and they raised their cry: "Kill the — — — !" They attacked the officer, who retreated around the building and drow his revolver, but no one followed. He to the depot to meet the train from the east,

The crowd took possession of things, and knocked the glass out of the hotel windows, and kicked the door in. The policeman, reinforced by a posse arrosted four of the party, viz, Alexander Lyons, Edward and William Croaker, and Mike Milligan.

In the preliminary examination yesterday Ed. Croaker, Mike Milligan, and Inchard Mullahay were committed to await the action of the grand jury, and taken o Otlawa last night.

A Loan of a Hundred Thopsand Dolony.

CINCINNATI, March 3.-Mr. Henry Kimber, solicitor, of London has loaned the English colony at Rugby, Tenn., 425,000, taking as security a mortgage on the tract of 25,000 acres of land belonging to the Rugby colony. The sum, it is said, will be ample to place the enterprise upon a successful basis. It will enable the superintend out to make the needed improvements and to hold the farms and lots for satisfactory purchasers. The lean was made through the Rugby board of aid of which Mr. Thomas Hughes is the moving spirit. Mr. Kimber came up from Rugby to this city yesterday. He is on his way hone, having recently arrived In this country from Australia, where he established a line of indiway 1,000 miles in length, from the Guif of Carpentaria to the acuthwestory coast. The Judiciary Department Fiercely Attacked in the Senate by Mr. Van Wyck.

A Compromise Tariff Bill at Last Agreed Upon by the Conference Committee.

The Report Adopted by the Upper House on a Close Vote---Mr. Beck's Vigorous Protest.

A PASSAGE-AT-ARMS. WASHINGTON, March 3.-The senate, as well as the house, can have scenes that only fall short of personal encounters, but in the affair that occurred in the senate late yesterday afternoon the element of the absurd prodominated Some time ago, Mr. Van Wyck got the senate to adopt a resolution calling on the department of justice for statements of the payments made to special attorneys. The papers were sent to the senate Thursday, and went at once to Mr. Van Wyck, which was not altogather regular, as the ordinary course is for such papers to be referred to a committee as soon as sent to the senate. Mr. VanWyck spont the night eramming upon them, and all day he was watching for a chance to make his speech. Late in the day he managed to make his attack on Atty. Gen. Brewster when a pet bill of Mr. Morgan's allowing the coal lands of Alabama to be sold as agricultural lauds, was before the senate. This was not difficult to do, as the senate rules don't require speeches to be relevant. Some of the facts Mr. Van Wyck mentioned wore given in those dispatches yesterday. Bliss got $15,000 for 108 days, including Sundays, and he got $10,000 or $12,000 for sorvices and expenses since. Morrick entered the case after the first star-route trial was under way, but he also got $15,000 for the first trial. Mr. Van Wyck passed over Ker as small fry but he has had about $5,000 in twelve months Mr. Van Wyck spoke from the Republican a chair next to the same aisle, on the Democratic side. Mr. Van Wyck denounced the attorney general in the severest terms for approving these corrings claims, and declared proving these enormous claims, and declared that the treasury was suffering as much from those special attorneys whom "Browster, attorney general," hired as from the star-route theore. Mr. Cameron jumped up and, stretching out his long arm, shook his finger almost in the face of Mr. Van Wyck, and said in menacing tones: "Do you mean to charge the attorney general with taking any of that money?" Mr. Van Wyck diselaimed any such implication. "Wolt, you'd better not," growled Mr. Cameron, sinking back into his chair. Mr. Van Wyck resumed, and Mr. Cameron waved his arm around, and, shaking his finger at Van Wyok resumed, and Mr. Cameron wavod hie arm around, and, shaking his finger at Mr. Van Wyck, said, "You'd better be very careful what you say," and sovoral other remarks which were not intelligible. Mr. Van Wyck kept his tempor perfectly, but presently he again excited the ire of the senator from Pennsylvania, and he exclaimed: "You take too much; you stop now!" and then got, up "and walked around to the rear of the Bepublican side and took a seat. Mr. Edmunds whispered some softling remarks in his ear, and then Mr. side and took a sout. At Lemminds winspered-some soothing remarks in his ear, and then Mr. Voorhees played the part of the Good Samar-itan and stoered Mr. Cameron into the Repub-lican committee-room. Mr. Yan Wyck referred vaguoly to a case where a member of congress had received pay for logal service while con-gress was in session, but did not mention the

Gen. Logan denounced Mr. Van Wyck's Gen. Logan depoinced Mr. Van. Wyck's course in making a speech on papers that had not been referred to any committee as wholly irregular, and suggested that oriticisms on fees of the government lawyors in the star-route cases, if made outside the senate, would be supposed to come from an advocate of the defendants. Mr. Edmunds showed some disposition to criticise Mr. Van Wyck. After Mr. Van Wyck got through the had the papers referred to the judiciary committee.

THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE. The conference committee.

The capitol was crowded till a late hour last oroning with sightseers. The galleries of the senate were filled, and the corridors were so full of people that passage through them was difficult. There was nothing in the senate proceedings that would at an earlier point in the season have drawn all these people, but during the last two or three nights exciting incidents, if not personal encounters, are leoked for, and so the populace crowds the halts of legislation. It was about 9 o'clock when Senator Morrill presented the conference committee's tariff bill, accompanying it with a briof explanation of the points wherein it difwhen Senator Morrill presented the conference committee's tariff bill, accompanying it with a brief explanation of the points wherein it differed from the senate bill. Mr. Beck was the culy man on the other side who could make a detailed criticism of the report. He was unfortunately suffering from hoarseness, but he did not finch from his duty, and began his remarks with a voice that threatened to give out entirely in a few minutes. Exercise improved it, if anything, and by getting Mr. Vance to rest him occasionally by reading from The Record he was able to to on at considerable length. After Mr. Beck completed his scretthreated depunciation of the conference bill Messrs. Enyard and Vance spoke in the same strain at moderate length, and then the bill was adopted by the close vote of. 32 to 31, a party vote except that Don Cameron and Yan. Wyck voted against it one because the duties were too high, and Mr. McPherson voted with the Ropublicans. Cameron was paired with a Democrat, but voted because his rairs were on the same side. Mr. Mitchell, who was also opposed to the bill, was paired, with a Democrat, but voted because his rairs were on the same side. Mr. Mitchell, who was also opposed to the bill, was paired, with a Democrat, but voted because his rairs were on the same side. Mr. Mitchell, who was also opposed to the bill, was paired, with a Democrat, but voted because his rairs were on the same side. Mr. Mitchell, who was also opposed to the bill, was paired, with a Democrat, but voted because his rairs were on the same side. Mr. Mitchell, who was also opposed to the bill, was paired, with a Democrat, but voted because his rairs were on the same side. Mr. Mitchell was been at the same right to vote that his colleague had, but he excused himself from voting on account of his pair. Mr. Cameron tried to explain the situation to him, but did not succeed in season. Had Mitchell voted in opposition, the vote would have been defeated. The bill is expected to go through the house without trouble.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the probable fate of the tax and tariff conference report in the house of representatives, to which body it will be submitted this morning, but the provalent expectation among well informed observers is in favor of its adoption. A prominent member from New York said-last night that, many of his associates will vote for the bill, regardless of the objections to some of its provisions, by reason of their belief that it would be unwise to defeat a measure the enactment of which, as they understand it, would reduce taxation by an amount approximating $70,000,000 per annum. It is also said the Pennsylvania Democrats, representatives led by ex-Speaker Randall favor the bill. On the other had, it is said the five Now York Republicans will joint a faction of the Pennsylvania delegation in opposing the hill. A conference held at a lete hour last night in the speaker's room developed a strong Ohio opposition to the conference committee maction concerning duties on wool and hoop-iron, and emphasized the fact that neither Sherman nor McKinley signed the report. Indiana also brings some reinforcement to this opposition, but on the whole, as above infiniated, the balance of probabilities appear to incline toward an ultimate agreement by the house with last night's action of the senate.

SENATE OFFICERS.

The Republican senators in caucus yesterday morning selected Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, for president pro ten, of the senate. It had been previously ascertained that this nomnad boon providely assortanced that this nom-ination would be entirely satisfactory to the Domocrats. Mr. Edmunds will therefore be installed soon after noon to-day, when Judge Davis will retire. The agreement upon Edmunds disappoints the George Gorham-Mahone syndicate, which and con-fidently hoped until within a few days that some arrangement would be reached by which there would be an extra session of the senate, when it would be possible to elect the . Repub-lican officers of the senate. Many Republican hean officers of the senate. Many Republican senators, however, have been very anxious to avoid the contingency, for the reason that it would only have resulted in serious party difficulty. A number of Republican senators (Mr. Edmunds being among them, are very unwilling to support Mr. Corham as the Republican nominee for secretary of the senate. That opposition was so birter, in fact, that it was not entirely certain that it might-not result in the defeat of the

THE CIVIL-SERVICE COMMISSION.

Mr. Dorman B. Eaton, prosident of the civil-service commission, is in Washington. On being asked as to the the plan of action of the commission, should the confirmation of the appointees come along as expected, he said:

The plan is not left to the commission; it is clearly defined. There must be a heard of examiners at each postofiles or custom house where there are more than fifty clerks. This requirement reaches the offices at Boston and San Francisco; so you can see how busy the commissioners who must select these local examining officers will be. The law provides that within six months from its passage no clerk shall be appointed except by competitive examination as provided for by the law creating that commission. These local boards must be carefully chosen."

"Has anything in your experience since the questions for the original civil-service examinations were formulated tended to convince you that the questions under the new commission should be in any way different?"

"Well, I don't think the old set of questions contained anything that was unreasonable; but purchase you might say that in case the com-contained anything that was unreasonable; but perhaps you might say that in case the commission as appointed shall be confirmed and organized, the new list of questions will be somewhat narrowed in scope and simplified."

In the meantime "Bettie and the baly" are living quietly on their farm in Virginia. Mrs. Mason occasionally visits this city. It is understool, however, that at the expiration of his term of office President Arthur will grant a pardon to Serrt Mason. Sergt Mason.

THE HOUSE. The house disposed of a good deal of busi-The house disposed of a good coar of business yesterday, but none of general public interest. Good and Huntington's scheme for consolidating into one the eight lines of railroads between the Pacific and the gulf of Moxico was called up by Mr. Butterworth, for Ohio. At least half of the bill was in manuscript and had not been read by a dozen members. Mr. Patterworth, sometiments the idea At least last of the bit was in manuscript and had not been read by a dozen members. Mr. Butterworth, sought to impress the idea that the sole object was to form a continuous through line under one management, from the Mississippi to the Pacific coast, and thus save expense in operating the road and cheapon; rates of freight. He also claimed that all rights of the states through which the line passes were preserved by the bill. Dum of Arkaneas, Holman of Indiam, Culberson of Texas, and Gibson of Louisiana, stremuously opposed the consolidation scheme, the general ground of the objection being that it was in violation of the laws of Texas and was chiefly designed to secure the benefit of the eighteen million acres of land granted to one of the roads but not carned, and that the act would give Goild and Hantington a monopoly of transcontinental transportation. Instead of passing by a two-thirds yote, the bill was deof transcontinental transportation. Instead of passing by a two-thirds vote, the bill was defeated by 41 majority. It is understood that Butterworth will try again to day.

Members have yied with each other in trying to get a hearing for bills which they are specially anxious to get through before the close of the assion! Only a few of them were snecessful. Among the bills that passed was one to confirm unities to certain public lands: in the, Westernic Bills that represented by Mr. Pound! congram unities to certain public hans in the Wisconsin district represented by Mr. Pound: This bill, which yot requires the consent of the senate, relates to lands purchased in good faith at private sales for $4.25 per acre, without having been previously offered at public sales at that wide.

ing boon proviously offered at public sales as that pice.

The house has at last surrendered its position deliberately taken with reference to the reduction of rates for the transportation of sanals on land-grant railroads, and with reference to and grain the fast-mail service for another year. The senate insisted that no reduction should be made in the present pay of the land-grant reads, and that the fast mails should be maintained, and the leave yielded both points rather than risk the defeat of the postoflice appropriation bill.

The house discussed the disagree-The house discussed the disagree-ment of the senate to reducing the number of internal revounce collectors from 120: to 82. The Democrats and a few Republicans voted in favor of insisting to the last that the army of revenue officers be cut down, as there could not be use for them if the internal taxation was to be reduced $30,000,000, as the dominant was to be reduced $30,000,000, as the continant party had beasted.

The house appropriated $450,000 for completing the engines and machinery of one of the Robeson monitors. The senate increased the amount to $1,000,000, and directed the completion of the engines and machinery of three of the monitors. By a narrow majority the house agreed to let the secretary of the navy have $1,000,000 to finish the monitors.

A few unimportant bills were advanced and then the senate adjourned until Monday at 5 p. m.

The house held a two-bours' session, doing considerable routine work. A few new bills were introduced, smong them one by Mr. Baker, taxing telegraph companies 114 per cent Adjourned till Monday, night.

Routine Legislation in Michigan-The Senatorial Election.

LANSING, Mich., March 3. - The house tabled a resolution to compel the fish commissioner to retain the dismissed superintendent. Portman, until the legislature has finished the investigations of the charges against the commission. The house passed a bill to submit to the people a constitutional amendment to allow a suporconstitutional amendment to allow a supervisor in the upper poningula; also to increase the salaries of circuit judges. The senate passed bills to incorporate Monomineo and Springport, and to relicorporate Dexter, and adjourned to Monday night. The best of feeling prevails ever the election of Scantor Palmer, and congratulatory dispatches are pouring in from all over the state, from Washington, and elsewhere. It appears to be generally conceded that he is the best man in the state to undertake the task of healing the party troubles. His election is believed to pave the way for Col. Stockbridge's nomination as the next Republican candidate for gouerner, with little or no opposition.

TELEGRAPH TROUBLES.

The Mayor of Chicago Orders the Mutual Union Wires Leading Into the City Cut.

CHICAGO, March 3. Yesterday, under instruction from the mayor, Mr. John Barrett, municipal electrican and "wire puller," etc., went out to Thirtynintle and Clark streets with a man and a big pair of shears and out fifty-nine wires tho Mutual Union Tolograph company leading into the city. The wires wore all on one set of poles. Some sixteen brand new wires which the Western Union company had put up on the Mutual Union poles were found strong all clong until they reached a point outside the city limits, where they were found clinched around a post There were also cut four wires of the St. Louis board of trade and three of the st. Louis board of trade and three of the fever, and every depressing decease."

Republican nomines in a close senate. As it is, amoss some unforcescen contingoncy arises, therefore, the prosent officers of the senate will hold over until next December. The contest of Gorbam, Riddleberger and Malanon has been postgoned until them. Gorbam's friends are quite willing that it should be understood that Mahone and Riddleberger will not co-operate with the Republican party unless Gorbam shall then be elected. There are a good many Republicans who are quite willing that the alliance between Gorbam and Malanon should be ruptured.

INDIANA LEGISLATURE.

Instrance Bill Passed--- A Sensation in the House.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—In the house of representatives yesterday Mr. Shively's important Lill regarding insurance companies was passed. It, provides that all insurance companies doing business on the assessment plan, shall execute a bond payable to the state of Indiana conditioned on the faithful performance of their contracts with their policy-holders. It makes it a felouy for any insurance company doing business in this state to take out a policy on the life of any infirm, agod, or empled person. The claim of Mrs. Edwin May for $19,000 for services rendered by her late husband as arelated of the new state house failed to pass. The bill to the new state notice tailed to pass. The bill to one-half of 1 per cent, on the taxables of the state has passed both houses.

In the house considerable time was spent on the bill to complete the state house at a cost not to exceed: $2,000,000. In the senate the whole day-was spent considering the Jonson vs. Overstreet was adopted. There was a censurating committees majority report, favoring Marchest Workstreet, was accused of bribery in Sourcing votes. The investigating committees majority report, favoring Mr. Overstreet, was adopted. There was a sense to the committee of the comm tional incident in the afternoon. Senator Foulke ional incident in the afternoon. Senator Foulke arose to a question of privilege and said he had been informed by Senator Benz that he had been informed by Senator Benz that he had been offered a large bribe to vote for the metropolitan police bill, and he wanted a committee appointed to investigate the matter, which was seferding done. Benz charged that Hon. S. B. Kerr, ex-member from Floyd county, had done to him and said that he was authorized to tell him to name his own price for his vote on the police bill, and that he indignantly rejected the offer. Korr says he dignantly rejected the offer. Korr says he simply repeated to Benza conversation which he had overheard, and did not offer him any bribe, nor was he authorized to do so. Further, witnesses will be examined.

Buth houses of the legislature have now many dashell to allow the Louiside New York. pussed the bill to allow the Louisville, New Athany & Chicago railroad to guarantee the bonds of the Louisville Southern railroad, its new southern outlet, to the amount of two-thirds of its capital stock.

SWORD AND PEN.

What Tecumseh Sherman Thinks of Their Comparative Herits.

WASHINGTON, March 3 .- Gen. Sherman was recently requested by a New York friend to subscribe to the sentiment "The pen is mightier than the sword," whereupon he vrote as follows:

"DEAR Mr. Box - Your long letter of the Itl s received. I prefer not to make scraps of sentimental writing. When I write anything I want it to be real and connected in form, as, for instance, in your quotation from Lord Lytton's play of "Richelian," 'The pen is mightier than the sword.' Lord Lytton would never have nut his signature to so naked a sentiment. Surely I will not. In the fext there was a prefix, or qualification: Beneath the rule of men entirely great, the pen is mightier than the sword. Now, this world does not often present the condition of facts herein described. Men entirely great are very rare indeed; and even Washington, who approached greatness as near as any mortal, found good use for the sword and the pencach in its proper sphere. You and I have seen the day when a great and good man ruled this country (Lincoln), who wielded a powerful and proline pen, and yet had to call to his assistance a million of finging swords. No. I cannot subscribe to your sentiments, The pen is mightier than the sword, which you ask me to write, because it is not true. Hather, in the providence of God, there is a time for all things—a time when the sword may cut the Gordian knot and sat free she principles of right and instice bound up in the meshes of hatred, revenge and tyranny, that the pen of mighty men like Clay, Webster, Crittenden and Lincoln were unable to disentangle. Wishing you all success in your effort, I am, with respect, your friend.

MALPRACTICE.

Death of a Betrayed Nova Scotia Maiden at the Hands of a Boston Butcher.

HALIEAX, Nova Scotia, March 3.—The sad fate of an unfortunate young woman bolonging in a western Nova Scotia town has just been traced to the duplicity of a supposed gontlemen of this city and the criminal practice of a Boston physician. About a year ago the former party, who is a married man, met his victim at a small hostelry a few miles outside this city. She was a handsome woman, a year or two over 20, the daughter of a man residing in a coast town some fifty miles from Halifax. Captivated with her comely appearance, the villain worked himself into her affections in a short time. She was induced to come to live in the city, the man supplying her with sufficient money to support her here. Months went by and the intimacy of the pair continued, until early in the winter the girl's seducer, finding her in wanter the girl's seducer, intuing her in a condition which would soon cause his exposure, decided to put her out of the way, at least for a time. She consented to go to Boston. About the beginning of December the girl made the trip, put hersolf under the care of a procurer of abortion, and in consequence of the latter act met her fate early in February. The middle of last month her father, who for several months had not heard from his child, received notification from Halifax that a coffin received notification from Halifax that a collin addressed to him had been received by steamer from Boston. Coming to the city, reagni-tion of the remains followed. The young tion of the remains followed. The young woman was known to her parents to have been well acquainted with the man who had been the cause of her discrace, but no suspicion was entertained of the illicit intimacy existing between them. He was interviewed a few days after the arrival of the body, by the sorrowing father, who by that time had obtained an inkling of the facts, and he confessed to his criminality. It is said that the man who brought the young girl to her grave was in correspondence with a person who attempted the abortion, but the grieving father yielded to his persuasions, and the matter was quietly settled.

THE GAZETTE.

OF GENERAL INTEREST. -A colored man named Hatchitt has been sentenced to one year in the penitentiary by the Henderson, (Ky.) Circuit Court for obtaining a becistake under false pretenses.—N. O. Picayune.

—Jennie B. Henry, of New Castle, Pa., sent up a toy baloon with her name and address attached, and requested the find-er to notify her. In thirty days she was advised that it had descended at Stanberry, Miss. —The Nineteenth Century Club is the name of a new organization in New York. Its object is the hearing and criticising of the most progressive thought. Among the members there are women as well as men.—N. Y. Mail.

-Miss Emily Faithful has been in the philanthropy business for the last twentyfive years, and yet a Chicago hackman palmed a lead quarter off on her the other day without the least twinge of conscience.—Detroit Free Press.

-For some time the letter-bags in the village of Cardross, Scotland, have been carried by a collie dog, who has Lever made a mistake respecting his destina-tion, nor has he ever lost anything. The postoffice authorities, however, have or-dered the services of this faithful and intelligent public servant to be discontinued.

—The sorrows of a Georgia editor are thus depicted in the Montezuma Weekly: "We dunned a man for a three-dollar subscription bill the other day while he was purchasing six or seven gallons of whisky. He pulled out twenty cents and gave it to us. We would almost as soon have had a knock in our face for the trouble.

—A miner at the Albien reduction works, Eureka, Nev., became so stimu-lated from inhaling carbonic acid gas, mixed with lead fumes, while repairing one of the tunnel fume escapes, that had he not been immediately secured he would have killed three men standing near him with a sledge hammer, which he snatched in his mad fit.

-About six years ago a little son of Mr. Henry Shuller, of Johnstown, Pa., fell dead in the street during a thunder-storm, and it was thought at the time that he had been struck by lightning, a presumption which was disproved by a subsequent examination. Recently another son of the same gentleman dropped dead while skating.

-Fifteen cases of small-pox among the female operatives of the paper mills at Conshohocken, Pa., had their origin in the dirty paper and rags gathered from the streets of Philadelphia and sent to the mills to be made into new white paper, such as schoolboys chew into wads. with which they bother their teachers and ornament the citizens.—Philadelphia

—A young man, arrested in Washington for beating his father, excused himself on the plea that he was following scripture. "How is that?" asked the Judge. "Why, whom the Lord loveth he chastiseth," replied the youth. "I love my father, and so when he came home drunk I chastised him, and I think it's done him good." He was fined ten dollars for misquoting.

The good people of Neponset, Mass, have discovered what they had supposed for several weeks to be the ghost of some pirate king flitting about, "the Pirate's Cove" is only another seeker after the treasure which tradition says some rascally rover of the deep long ago secreted on that spot. For many years periodical searches have been made by fortune-hunters with more time than sense at their disposal, but the presence of some evil spirit or the absence of the treasure has hitherto cheated them of their reward; the latest adventurer will probably not be the last. -The American Machinist prints letters from over forty establishments engaged in manufacturing machinery, engines, boilers, tools and machinist's supplies, representing several States, which tend to show that 1882 was a signally prosperous years, and that confidence in trade for the present year is not lacking. Taken as a whole, however, prices of machinery and tools, are lower than they were, and the tendency is toward closer competition. Iron and other materials that enter into machine construction are lower, but as a rule wages of first-class mechanics have not declined. —The car carrying the properties of the Madison Square theatre company was wrecked recently, en route to Rahway, N. J., and when the time came for the curtain to rise at the theatre at that place the stage manager explained the situation to the audience, and that the actors would be obliged to appear in their ordinary street costumes, adding that could have their money refunded at the box-office. Not a person left the theatre, and the play went on, the actors striving to make up by attention to their duties what was lacking in the matter of stuge costumes.

-The shortage in the beef supply which was caused by the great drouth of 1881 has been fully repaired by the season of 1882, and beef of good quality is again plentiful. The pinch was felt, however, until last fall. The potato famine of last year still has an effect upon the market, and potatoes are much higher than they might be, considering the crop of last season. One good result of the shortage was the importation of an excellent variety of potatoes from Scotland. Many farmers planted the imported potatoes, and the result is an excellent tuber, -Rochester (N. Y.) Demo-

-In Como District, Nevada, there is a mining claim which was located several months ago by the Ely sisters, aged sixteen and fourteen, and named the Woodbine and Daffodil. These young ladies, who are personally very attractive, are at work developing their claim, in the value of which they have great confidence. Like all prospectors, they look fidence. Like all prospectors, they look fidence. Like all prospectors, they look upon their property as the coming rival of the Consolidated Virginia and Califor-nia bonanza. They have already sunk a shaft eight feet deep and twelve by six feet in size, doing all the work with their own hands-and picks and shovels-in hard-picking ground. They deserve the success which all their friends wish them.

Evolution in Hair-Pins.

-Chicago Times. ...: 1

The hair-pin of to-day is more like its aucestor than is the enlightened man of science like the primeval monkey. Hair-pins have "evoluted" out of the oldfushioned straight wire into various shades, sizes and designs. Most of them are enameled. They are of varying length, from the gossamer forks with corrugated limbs, used to hold in place puffs and curls, to the long pins required to keep on the big hats whose broad brims present great temptations to the wind. They are made by machinery, and are so cheap that the poorest woman may enjoy the greatest variety. What becomes of the hair-pins? They drop on floors; they get swept up and lost; they become hont and useless; they; disappear and are replaced, and great factories are employed in making them. - N. Y. Sun.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

-The cause of, the death of James A. Hurst, the State Taxidermist for New York, was the absorbtion into his system of arsenic used by him in his work. -N, Y. Sun.

-Col. Nicholas Smith, who is known to fame as "the handsomest man in America," has become a resident of She l byville, Ky. His wife, one of Horace Greeley's daughters, died recently.

—The sweet singer of Michigan is likely to be superseded by a wonderful sculptress, little Maggie Leighton, whose achievements with a caseknife and common clay are said to indicate surprising symptoms of genius.

-Mr. Napier-Broome, the new Governor of Western Australia, was formerly a sheep farmer in New Zealand. Some years inter he was on the editorial staff of the London Times. His present bailiwick contains about a million square miles, and only 30,000 civilized inhabitants.

-One of the wealthiest of United States Senators is George H. Pendleton. It would take at least $100,000 to maintain his several places of residence—his elegant winter home in Washington, his large city mansion in Cincinnati, his cottage at Conway, N. H., and his villa at Mt. Desert, Maine.—Chicago Herald.

—General C. H. Grosvenor, of Ohio, has declined to accept the recent allowance to him of $4,679 as arrearages of pensions, saying he does not need it, and only pressed the application to vindicate the honesty of the claim after an open and bitter enemy had falsely alleged that the claim was a false one, and ought not to be granted.—N. Y. Heralâ.

-Ben de Lenos, a notorious Alabama politician, tramped from New York to Montgomery some dozen years ago. He was barefooted and without money when he reached the capital of Alabama, and on the night of his arrival he stole into the Representatives' Hall at the Capitol, and slept in the Speaker's chair. Less than two years afterwards he sat in the same honorable chair, and presided over the House of Representatives of the Ala bama Legislature.

-Nilsson is one of the few amiable prima donnas. On her way to San Fran-cisco, she sang freely wherever people assembled, and without any show of condescension, seeming!y happy in being able to please them. While crossing San Francisco Bay on the ferry boat the passengers crowded around her, and she gave them "Homo Sweet Home" and "Way Down Upon the Suwance River.". the train she frequently entertained the passengers with vocalism. - Chicago

—Miss Emily Faithful sums up her be-lief in regard to "The Changed Position" of Women in the Nineteenth Century" in these words: "That it is a great mis-take to regard women as mere machines hands without heads; that we are not justified in drawing upon their physical strength and ignoring their mental capacity to the extent that at present obtains among us; that woman should no longer be deprived of the advantages of systematic training, nor be excluded from the most lucrative branches of the various occupations to which they have been ad-

"A LITTLE NONSENSE."

-A Western farmer advertises that he wants a first-class potato masher; there are lots of mashers in Philadelphia, but they are all of the small potato order. -Philadelphia Item.

-A Philadelphia gentleman broke his arm in saving a young lady skater from drowning. But gentlemen will continue to offer their arms as soon as the ice is broken.—Detroit Free Press.

-J. W. R. Jr.-Puck is of opinion that your lines commencing, "At midnight in his guarded tent," have appeared somewhere before. At all events, they will not appear in this periodical.—Puck.

-A correspondent writes: "You want to know what kind of fruit an axletree bears. Why, nuts, of course—one on each end of the tree." We thought some felloc of the Hub would be able to tell us.—Boston Transcript.

—A Southern thace-miles-an-hour railroad has started a chicken train. Heus are gathered up at way stations, and on reaching the terminus the eggs which they have laid while en route are sold. By this means people at the further end are kept supplied with fresh eggs. By the old plan they always spoiled.—N. Y.

Graphic. -A writer of broad experience and keen observation says a widow is most dangerous in her second year. That is probably a terrible fact. Between a two year old widow and a nineteen yearling girl, you couldn't tell which of the pair to fly to or run from. Both are set down in the column of risks as "extra hazardous."—Nornistown Herald.

-A countryman stepped into a Broad street fruit store and invested in a nickel's worth of chestnuts. In half an hour he returned and handed the proprietor one of the nuts. "What does this mean" asked the dealer. "Well," remarked the customer, "that is the only sound chest nut I found in the pint, and so thought you put it in by mistake. I am an honest man, and don't want to take a mean advantage of a fellow."-Athens (Ga:) Banner.

-An Austin firm sold on credit a pair of boots to a leading citizen, to whose daughter one of the clerks in the store is paying attention. A few days ago the head of the firm said to the clerk: "You must remind Colonel So-and-so about those boots." "There is no need of it. He, himself, reminded me of those boots last night without saying a word," re-marked the clerk, as he limped to a box of dry goods, on which he sat down to rest.—Texas Siftings.

Yennor's Grief.

The other morning Vennor got out of bed, looked out the window and fell on his back with a gasp of amazement. The hotel people heard him fall and rushed into his room. "What is the matter?" they shouted: "Look!" the prophet gasped, pointing to the window. "Yes," gasped, pointing to the window. they said, "we see, but what of it?"
"What is it doing?" he asked. "Snowing," they cried; "twenty-two inches of snow on the ground in one night, and still a coming; drifts eighteen feet high and all trains on all roads abandoned. Snowing, that's what it's doing." "I thought so," the prophet said; "but then again I feared it was a delusion. I thought it couldn't be true." "What is it?" they demanded once more. "Why," said the weather trainer, "you see this is the day I said it was going to snow hard all over America, and so yesterday I sold my arctics and ulster and traded off my sleigh for a road wagon. Oh dear, oh dear how was I to know it would snow this week?" And he buried his face in the bosom of his ulster and gave way to his emotion. So they came away and left him alone with his sorrow. - Hawkeye,

WATER WORKS.

The Gazette, this evening, furnishes its readers with a full copy of the amendment to our city charter providing for water works, which is now pending in the state legislature. We publish the amendment that our citizens may be rightly informed as to its several provis ions, that they may take such action in the premises as they see fit and proper We call their especial attention to the proviso in section 65 of this amendment, which provides that "no tax shall be levied or collected norany bond or bonds be issued by said council nor any contract or agreement entered into or indebtedness or liability incurred by said council or said board or any officer or agent thereof, nor shall any such board be elected unless a petiion be filed with the city clerk of said city signed by a majority of the persons whose names appear on the assessment roll of said city for the year preceding the filing of said petition together with an affidavit setting forth that the persons whose names appear on said petition fin and Joseph Cook, last night, for signed the same, and that they constitute a majority of the persons whose names appear on the said assessment roll; requesting that the said board herom provided for may be elected and that the tax mentioned in the eightly subdivision of chapter 6, of chapter 221, of the laws of 1882, or such portion thereof as shall be necessary for the purpose therein set forth may be levied by said conncil and that said water works may be constructed by said board as provided in this act and that the bonds of the city, specifying the amount, may be issued for the purpose of borrowing money for the construction by said board for said city of public water works as provided in this

Colonel Britton desires the Gazette to state in his behalf that he has no personal interest in the passage of this amendment, but that with its well-guarded provisions, he cannot now see any objections to its passage. The bill reads as

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senute and assembly, do enact as follows? Amend number 129, A., as follows: Strike out section 2 and jusert in lieu thereof the following: Section 2. Chapter 6 of chapter 221 of the laws of 1832, is hereby amended by adding after the seventh subdivision of said chapter the following:

Eightů. To annually levy and collect axes not to exceed ten thousand dollars on all real and personal property in said city to meet the current expenses of operating and maintaining any public waterworks constructed by said city, or of supplying said city with water under any contract entered into by it or by any board of water commissioners duly au-thorized by law to contract for, or construct water works for said city, which shall constitute the water fund.
Section 3. Chapter 12 of said chapte

221 of the laws of 1832, is hereby amend ed by inserting after section 47 the fol lowing:

Section 43. There is hereby established a board of water commissioners of the city of Janesville, to be composed of five members to be residents of said city; the term of office of one of whom shall expire on the day of the municipal election in said city in each year. The first members of said board shall hold their offices respectively for one, two, three, four and five years, and thereafter the term of office of the said commissioners shall be five years.
